FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

This year holds a special place in the history of K-IIT World School, as we step into our 60th year of service in education. It is a moment of pride, but also one of deep remembrance. On 6th August 2025, we bid farewell to our revered Founder Chairman, Shri Baldev Raj Kamrah Ji, at the age of 97. A true Gandhian at heart, he was the epitome of erudition, discipline, and simplicity. His vision of education went beyond classrooms—he believed in nurturing character, instilling values, and building citizens who would serve society with integrity and compassion.

Though his physical presence is no longer with us, his ideals continue to guide our path. Today, K-IIT is not just a school—it is a thriving family of students, teachers, parents, and alumni bound together by shared values and a collective purpose. Every achievement of ours, big or small, is a reflection of his dreams taking shape through us.

As we carry forward his legacy, we remain committed to upholding the principles he lived by and passed on to us. May his life remind us that true greatness lies in service, humility, and the relentless pursuit of knowledge.

POEM

Silence is heavy, it crushes the soul,
It buries the voice, it swallows the whole,
It sharpens the wound, it darkens the role,
It turns beating hearts into ashes of coal,
Silence, unspoken, becomes its own goal.

Silence is colder than daggers of steel,
It speaks what no shouted word could reveal,
It poisons the laughter, it steals what we feel,
It cages the spirit, it shatters the seal,
Silence is louder than wounds that won't heal.

Silence between friends can sever the tie,
No farewell given, no reason, no why,
Just empty echoes where love used to lie,
Like stars disappearing from a hollow sky,
Silence becomes the last goodbye.

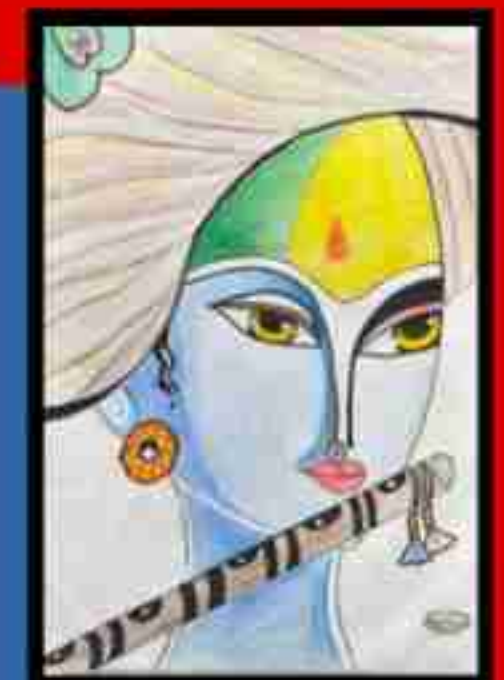

Silence in crowds is the loneliest sound,
It screams in the spaces where trust is not found,
It weighs like a mountain that keeps us bound,
It lingers in shadows that circle around,
Silence is thunder without the ground.

Yet silence can comfort, it whispers in prayer,
It softens the sorrow too heavy to bear,
It heals with a gentleness hidden but rare,
It watches like moonlight that kisses the air,
Silence can cradle the soul with its care.

Silence in society, cruel and vast,
It buries the present, it shackles the past,
It shields the guilty, it shadows the cast,
It silences cries that should not be masked,
Silence is power too sharp to outlast.

But silence inside us can also ignite,
It carries the dawn through the depth of the night,
It teaches the broken to stand and to fight,
It shows us that darkness still bows to the light,
Silence, though heavy, can guide us aright.

STORY

There is a world which is made up of jelly. I mean it! A curious boy named Hero, aged 7, decided to figure it out.

Another day, another time, Hero was getting bored. Suddenly, he thought of jelly and wondered where all the jelly came from. Then he heard a voice,

"Jelly World, Jelly World, that's where you will find your answer."

Then he went to his lab and drank a white potion like a chemical. Then he chanted, "Transport to Jelly World, transport programme works," and fell into jelly and saw many jellies. There were people jellies, building jellies, cloth jellies and lots more. But Hero became a jelly himself! So, he went back to his lab. But he chanted the wrong spell and woke up in the mirror world.

This happened again and again with time travel, candy world, cartoon world, gummy world and finally Jelly World. Then he chanted the correct spell and woke up in his lab. He thought to never go to any other world from now on.

Then he heard a sound, "Wakey wakey, it's 6 o'clock." Hero realised it was a dream. Still, he learned a lesson and got ready for school.

TITLE- I LEARN THINGS WHEN I PLAY

Since I was little—maybe even two years old—my mummy has always said that learning is fun, and you know what? She's right! When I get to learn through play, it just makes everything so easy to understand.

Like when we play the Business game, I remember all the names of the states without even trying! Playing like this helps me remember things, makes me feel brave, and even means I spend less time on screens. Plus, it keeps me healthy and gives me lots of time with mummy and daddy, which I love.

Learning by playing also helps me make friends and keeps me happy, strong, and ready to try new things!

POEM

My ink ignites, setting pages ablaze.
I'm a poet, each page I write,
Echoes with screams of disgrace.
You can 'burn me alive'
And use my ashes, to cover your mistakes.

But, don't you forget-
Literature, too, has a soul.
You can hide it, burn it, ban it,
Yet you won't ever meet your goal.

You can strangle us with threads of oppression,
But our words are sharper than your knives.
Our brains, more powerful than your guns.
They heal, they don't take away lives.

Our books may be pushed back,
collecting dust on shelves.
But, there will come a time
When we break free from your shackles,
And you can no more muffle our yells.

So, bring out your pitchforks,
We're magic, indeed.
At least we don't shiver at the thought of equal sex, caste, and creed.
After all, I'd rather be burned alive as a witch,
Than be a man burning in hell for his greed.

'NATURE' [POEM]

Everything is nature.
God gives us this feature.
Birds fly in the sky,
And mountains are so high.
Trees are green,
And the water is so clear.
We are harming it.
But it never betrays.
It always gives us the right ways,
Please leave it as it is.
Don't try to play with it.
Please "SAVE NATURE AND SAVE LIFE."
